A Few Sample Cases of South Carolina Election Frauds and Their Treatment.

To the Estion.

Columnia, S. C., Dec. 3.—The testimony in the Mitchell case was concluded in the United States court to-day, It is the custom in Charleston to form two lines at the polls, one of colored persons and one of whites. A mulatio named Clark attempted to break from his line to the white line at the registration in May, 1852, but was stopped by Policeman Mitchell and turned back. A deputy United States marshal then came up and told Mitchell to come with him, but Mitchell retused unless a warrant was shown. The deputy marshal then left the scene. No violence or disorder is elieged. The arguments will be heard to-morrow. District Attorney Melton and Mr. Speer appear for the government, and Judge Marshal and ex-Attorney General Yeomans for the defense.

grath and ex-Attorney General Yeomans for the defense.

I find the above dispatch from Columbia, S. C., in your issue of Dec. 4. When we consider how little is known of the true state of affairs in South Carolina, we are pained to think that a paper of the standing and influence of The Republican should allow its correspondent to so misrepresent the facts.

It is true that at this place of registration two lines were formed—one of white waters and one of colored—not for convenience, but for fraud. White voters were allowed to register when they presented themselves, and colored voters were held-plack far that purpose. Clark, the mulatto in question, as the sworn testimony of the witnesses proved, did not present himself in the white line, but in the colored line, and was three times ejected from it by the policeman Mitchell, arbitrarily and without authority whatever. The deputy marshal coming up at the time put him, Clark, back in line, when he was forced out again by the policeman Mitchell, and not permitted to present himself to the supervisor for registration.

Mitchell refused to be arrested, and to prevent a riot the deputy marshal let him alone until next day.

The government's case was perfect and the went a riot the deputy marshal let him alone until next day.

The government's case was perfect and the jury first to last stood eleven for conviction. The vote for acquittal was given by a democratic juryman. A democratic state senator remarked a week ago that this man would stand out for acquittal in every case if he was put on the jury. It is a notable fact that a democrat will not vote for conviction in any of these cases, no matter how plain the evidence may be.

The government can hardly expect justice from the hands of men who can make a democratic majority of 7,000 in a county of only 4,000 voters, a majority of whom are repubcans, as was done in Edgefield county, where Tilden got 7,000 majority out of a voting population of 4,000, two-thirds of whom were republicans.

republicans.

A ward in Charleston, with a vote of about 500, gave 1,370 democratic votes to four votes for the republican candidate, when, in fact, a majority of the rotes but in the box were republican. To make the poll list taily with the votes counted names were copied from a Cincinnati directory.

These are preven facts and only a few of the innumerable frauds that are practiced in every county in the state.

THE CABS AND COMMISSIONERS.

First Blood and a Square Knock Down for the Hackmen. A large number of back drivers and cabmer were interested spectaters yesterday morning while a test case under the new hack regulations made by the district commissioners was being tried. J. J. Moffait, driver of herdic cab No. 13, was charged with soliciting business by driving up and down before the capitol front, and leaving the designated hack stand near the Washington statue, established by the architect of the capitol. Ed Hay, esq., appeared for the defendant, who pleaded not guitty.

Policemnu Proctor testified to making the arrest at 0:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening, about the time of the adjournment of the house.

Assist and blattic Autorney Padgett admitted the capitol hackstand to have been omitted from the list of designated hackstands established by order of the commissioners, because the capitol grounds were under the control of the architect of the capitol. made by the district commissioners was being

THE DOG LICENSE.

When Dogs are Not Liable for the Tax of $3 per Head. William Woody, Henry Heitmueller, Christo-pher Miller, Robert Shirley, and Henry Yost were flued $5 each in the police court yesterday, for allowing their dogs to run at large. Andrew Loeffler, John Ruppert, and William Heiney were discharged, on the testimony of witnesses that they charged, on the testimony of witnesses that they did not allow their dogs to leave their premises. Mr. A. A. Lipscombe, defendatis' counsel, had appeals noted in the other cases, on the ground that the fine was virtually imposed for a failure to pay the dog tax.

The court said: "I do not fine them for the non-payment of the tax. Congress has provided that dogs cannot run at large except by paying the tax, and all persons must pay for damages done by the dogs, and the identity of the owner is shown by the name of the owner on the collar of the dog. It a dog is kept on the premises of the owner, a fine cannot be imposed by the court. This law will have to be enioreed, and the district has lost 57,000 or $5,000 a year for several years by the laws not being enforced."

The freight rates of our great trunk lines have been advanced, but this will have no effect on the price of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which is sold at the old price of 25 cents a bottle.

Suing the Telegraph Company. Mr. E. A. Newman, for Aaron Baldwin and his wife Lena, entered suit yesterday against the Western Union Telegraph company. The declara-tion alleges that on the thirteenth of last January tion alleges that on the thirteenth of list January Mr. Baldwin, being an invalid at the Hot Springs, Ark., sent by the defendant the following message to be delivered to his wife in this city: "I am free from pain. I am gaining fast. Aaron," and paid the company 70 cents tor its transmission and delivery. He alleges that the defendant did not deliver the message he gave them, but delivered another and different one as follows: "I am tree from pain. I am going fast. Aaron." He claims that this telegram induced his wife to believe that he was in a dying state, and that it caused her great distress in mind and body; that on Jan. 14, 1883, she left this city and journeyed to Hot springs, where, upon her arrival, she found her fluid and gaining in health. The expenses of the rid were 3600. The plaintiffs comm that Mrs. Baldwin for many months afterward softered great prostration and suffered intens anguish and excitement on account of the false message. They claim therefore $5.000 damages.
